Granbury Hosts City Managers from Across Texas for Workshop

Granbury, Texas – The City of Granbury is proud to be hosting elected officials, city managers, and department directors from cities across Texas for the Texas City Management Association (TCMA) City Management Clinic on February 21 and 22.

Mayor Nin Hulett greeted the group of over 100 attendees at Lake Granbury Conference Center on Thursday morning, welcoming them to Granbury and thanking them for their work in their respective communities.

The clinic is an annual educational opportunity with the focus of helping governmental officials in their roles. This clinic's theme is "Cultivating Great Cities," and the days are filled with great informational sessions on a variety of topics, such as

- agricultural innovation in communities,
- building strong leadership teams,
- professional financial management,
- hiring best practices,
- organizational culture, and
- upcoming legislative session issues.

Granbury City Manager Chris Coffman is currently serving as the TCMA president. TCMA is an organization of local government professionals dedicated to promoting the highest standards of governance, service, leadership, ethics, and education. TCMA is committed to the council-manager form of government and effective partnerships with elected officials. For more information about TCMA, visit tcma.org.
